

Ness and Josephson currents

A. Verbeure

Theoretical Physics

KU-Leuven

Afd. Theoretische fysica, Celestijnenlaan 200D

3001 Heverlee, Belgium

Abstract

A nonequilibrium steady state is constructed on a system of two coupled superconducting plates. If the phases of the two superconductors are different, then it is shown that a particle (or Cooper pair) current exists of the type of Josephson current. Hence we get a the Josephson current carrying NESS.