Massless quantum field theory in $1 + 1$ dimension

J. Derezinski

Department of Mathematical Methods in Physics
University of Warsaw
Hoza 74
00-682 Warszawa, Poland

Abstract

It is usually stated that massless fields in $1 + 1$ dimension do not exist unless one introduces indefinite scalar product. This is not correct: one can construct a physically reasonable quantum field theory in $1 + 1$ dimension in a positive definite Hilbert space, if one is willing to go slightly outside of the Wightman axioms.