

ATELIER «NOUVELLES AVENUES EN PROCESSUS SPATIAUX ALÉATOIRES»
11–15 MAI 2009

WORKSHOP “NEW DIRECTIONS IN RANDOM SPATIAL PROCESSES”
MAY 11–15, 2009

Large range random growth models

JANKO GRAVNER

Department of Mathematics
University of California, Davis
Mathematical Sciences Bldg., One Shields Avenue
Davis, CA 95616
USA

`gravner@math.ucdavis.edu`

---

The occupied set  $A_t$  grows by adding points  $x$  which have at least  $\theta$  already occupied points in their neighborhoods. Such “threshold growth” models are interesting in many contexts. For growth on an integer lattice, explicitly computable approximations can be developed when the neighborhood range is large. Other cases will also be briefly addressed.