

Andrés Navas, University of Santiago (Chile)

Groups and dynamics

In this series of lectures we will see how methods from dynamics can reveal algebraic information on groups provided these groups act nicely on nice spaces. Several particular properties (e.g. amenability, property (T)) will be introduced and discussed, and recent relevant theorems will be sketched (and proved, if possible).